Exhibition Statement

'Salt' is a working collection of paintings focussed around the various forms of salt found on land and sea, some obvious some less so. From the inland deserts of Australia to the icy blue depths of the Antarctic Peninsula salt in varying quantities fosters both life and death, creating extraordinary patterns on both landscape and on skin. We are a people of a continent surrounded by, and thereby connected to, salt. The dramatic colours and residue of salt lakes and ponds across the country, coastal rock-pools and beaches, ocean depths and leached landscapes attest to its presence and power.
